

WOMAN IS DISMISSED FROM THEFT CHARGE

Judge Declares Prosecution of Miss Camille Hayes Based on Un-supported Suspicion

MANY FACTS ARE CLOUDED

Court Unable to Determine Cause of Disappearance of $3,250 Worth of Jewelry

In clearing the prosecution of the defendant was at best based on a suspicion unsupported by any testimony introduced, the case of the state of Oklahoma against Miss Camille Hayes, charged with the larceny of jewelry from the Montrose shop on September 23, was dismissed at the conclusion of the preliminary trial yesterday before Judge R. C. Maxey. The court, after hearing the testimony of M. Rosenberg, proprietor of the jewelry store, and Miss Hayes, who testified that she was in the store at the time of the disappearance of the goods valued at $3,250, he found no testimony which would in any way implicate the defendant in the alleged crime.

Rosenberg testified that on September 8 Miss Hayes took a position in his store as jewelry saleslady. On September 22 he took to his home an assortment of diamond jewelry. Rosenberg testified that on September 23 he checked the stock and returned it to the store the following morning. On that morning he gave the key to the inner doors of the safe into the custody of the defendant, and together they set about checking the diamond jewelry.

The witness claimed he found a shortage of three stick pins and a bar pin, but that for several weeks he did not suspect the defendant, and he admitted that other persons employed by the establishment were followed by detectives for two weeks before an investigation was made into the actions of Miss Hayes. When action was taken toward the defendant, it was admitted by Rosenberg, a search of the personal belongings with the aid of a search warrant, was made without results. It was brought out by counsel for the defendant that Rosenberg, through a local detective agency, has caused Miss Hayes to be taken to the offices of the detective in this city October 3 and held there without authority of law for six hours, in order to obtain a confession from her. This action, according to Rosenberg, was taken without an informant, and was sworn to in the court of Justice Maxey charging larceny of the goods.

Miss Hayes, in an interview on the day of her arrest, denied knowing anything about the disappearance of the goods, and said at that time that it was through her checking of the stock that the shortage was discovered. Rosenberg told the court that when Miss Hayes accepted the position it was with the understanding that she should be responsible for the loss of goods in the parts of the store under her direct supervision, but Justice Maxey, questioning the complainant, found that he had not required her to make a bond of any kind, and further that he could not say that the defendant ever had the goods in question in her possession at any time other than when she was checking stock with Rosenberg.

The court, without reviewing the testimony, stated from the bench that the prosecution seemed to have been based on a slight suspicion and that there was no evidence that the defendant was in any way implicated in the alleged theft of the jewelry.

In attendance at the trial was Dr. R. A. Hayes of Cleveland, Ohio, brother of the defendant, and a number of the defendant's relatives who remained at their hotel until the conclusion of the hearing.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

TRUCKS FOR ROAD WORK ARRIVE HERE

Drivers Bring Ten of Transporta Given By Government to This County.

Tulsa county federal aid roads project now under way received a boost yesterday when ten three-ton Nash army trucks, operated by drivers sent from this city last Tuesday to Oklahoma City, arrived here. The trucks are those requisitioned by Tulsa county for use on the 32 miles of paved highways now under construction.

Tulsa county in addition to $1,750,000 good roads bond issue voted in the fall of 1917, received a government appropriation of $600,000 with which to complete the highways connecting all important towns and cities in the county. In addition to connecting with highways from other adjacent counties, the original plan called for the construction of 32 miles of paved roads, but because of the advance in the price of materials and labor the bond issue was found sufficient to build only about 72 miles of the accepted type of road. With the federal aid and other money available in the county, the original plans for the entire project under the bond issue will be followed.

Four contracting companies, the Price, J. T. Lantry, B. K. Four and Standard Paving company, are now at work on the construction and paving of 72 miles of roads under contract. The summer and fall weather in the county has been favorable for road construction, but because of the shortage of railroad cars, work has been greatly hindered by the inability of contractors to obtain delivery of material, especially rock, sand and gravel.

Army trucks were requisitioned by the Tulsa county engineer's office to be used for hauling rock, sand and gravel from the sources of supply in the county, to the roads. It is believed by the contractors and engineer's office that with the aid of the government trucks, road work may be more rapidly completed by using trucks for this purpose wherever feasible, and thus releasing railroad cars for use where material cannot profitably be handled with trucks. The ten trucks received will be immediately placed at the disposal of Tulsa county road contractors for use wherever necessary.

Many Tulsans attended the funeral of Dr. D. M. Halley at McAlister Wednesday. Mr. Halley is credited with having been ranking Mason of Oklahoma in his capacity of 33rd degree inspector for Oklahoma.

FEDERAL AGENT ARRIVES TO EXAMINE EX-SOLDIERS

To arrange for the examination of the 100 or more disabled soldiers, marines or seamen residing in Tulsa, Pawnee, Osage and Washington counties who are applying for vocational training, G. H. Brewster, advance agent of the federal board for vocational education, arrived in Tulsa on Friday morning. He goes to Tulsa today.

The service men in the four counties designated as district No. 19 of Oklahoma, will be examined in this city on October 23, 24 and 25. Information may be obtained of this work at the Red Cross offices.

"Who is eligible for this vocational training?" was asked of Mr. Brewster, who pointed to this paragraph in a leaflet given out by the board: "Any man discharged under honorable conditions since April 7, 1917, from the military or naval forces of the United States, having a disability incurred, increased, or aggravated while a member of such forces, is entitled to training if the disability is such that in the opinion of the federal board, the man needs training to overcome the handicap of his disability."

Mr. Brewster said that while over 100 were listed from this district, the Tulsa delegation was the strongest.

Many Tulsans attended the funeral of Dr. D. M. Halley at McAlister Wednesday. Mr. Halley is credited with having been ranking Mason of Oklahoma in his capacity of 33rd degree inspector for Oklahoma.

that possibly there were more, as it's investigations showed many such cases. He said that Washington gave Dallas area credit for 400, when actually there were in excess of 200 disabled men.

The board will pay the transportation of any man to Tulsa, provide him with board and lodging and return him home, and if his case is clear cut, recommend him for some vocational course.
